NORM-JECT®

Norm-Ject® All Plastic Syringes

Norm-Ject® syringes are latex free, contain no rubber, silicone oil, styrene, BPA, or DEHP and are certified DNA free. These syringes are the choice for any situation needing an inert, hypo-allergenic syringe. Because of their purity they are indicated for IVF, embryo-transfer, chromatography and many laboratory procedures. Manufactured only from laboratory grade polypropylene and polyethylene, these unique plastic syringes have a positive safety stop to prevent accidental spills. Norm-Ject® syringes are individually sterile strip packed and are also available in bulk, unsterile packaging.

Conventional Rubber Tip Syringes

Although in general use for medical injections, rubber tipped disposable syringes have several drawbacks compared to the Norm-Ject® all plastic syringes. Since they contain natural or synthetic rubber and silicone oil, they may contaminate any media exposed to the syringe. Adverse effects from rubber curing agents, which contain zinc, sulfur and other elements, have been observed on everything from chromatographs to in-vitro procedures. Synthetic rubber plungers are also much more reactive to organic solvents and the silicone oil can cause separation of emulsions. In short, your best choice is the Norm-Ject® syringe if you are interested in purity and accuracy.

* Regular wall needles

Needle Walls

Thin Wall

Regular Wall

A thin wall needle has a larger inner diameter than a corresponding regular wall needle. Outer diameters of the two needles are identical. The advantage of a thin wall needle is increased flow with flow equal to a needle one gauge size larger. For example, a 20 gauge thin wall has the same flow volume as a 19 gauge regular wall, but is thinner for more patient comfort.
