Onondaga Hill Middle School Tech Club Competes at the MOST

On Saturday, November 15th, seven teams from the OHMS Tech Club, consisting of 7th and 8th grade students, competed against 40 other teams from schools in Onondaga County. Students were given the task to design and construct a truss bridge made out of balsa wood that would obtain a high efficiency rating. The efficiency rating is derived by dividing the amount of weight the bridge was able to support by the weight of the bridge itself. By using basic engineering principles and exploring different designs, students created their own design and built the bridge over a 3-week period. The team of Vincenzo Carr, Zack Sovocool, and Joseph Bleskoski was awarded Best Design. Team members Jordan Roach, Briana Robbins-Mulroy and John Mitrzyk received 3rd place. Congratulations go out to all of the competing members for a job well done. The remaining 5 teams included Maddie Pierce, Alexandria Korzeniowski, Ashley McGrath, David Coons, Holly LaVoy, Matt Sovocool, Drake VanOrnam, Joey Giarrusso, Jordan Files, Eddie Kernan, Marc Stallknecht, and Jack Zell. This competition was sponsored by the MOST, Lockheed Martin, the Technology Alliance of CNY, and the L. C. Smith College of Engineering and Computer Science at Syracuse University.

Westhill Community Rallies Behind Fire Victims

Earlier this month, the Ososkalo family of Westvale had a house fire that severely damaged their house and belongings. The entire school community rallied around the cause raising over $3,500 to support the family.

Mars Mission Students Donate Pies to Rescue Mission

Thank you to everyone who purchased pies for Westhill's Mars Mission fundraiser to benefit their upcoming trip in March to Arizona State University. They will work with NASA scientists to photograph Mars. The group made over $900 and sent 54 pies to the Rescue Mission to be served for their Thanksgiving Dinner.

Thanks also to those who attended the fundraiser at the Uno Chicago Grill in the Carousel Center on Thursday, November 20th. The group earned approximately $70 to help with the trip on this day.

Westhill's Mars Mission will be hosting an additional fundraising night at Tully's Restaurant on Thursday, December 18th. Come take a break from your holiday shopping and have dinner with us at Tully's on West Genesee Street!

High School ECOS Club Battery Collection

In recognition of America Recycles Day on November 15th, the High School ECOS Club (Environmentally Concerned and Organized Students) conducted a household battery collection. Household batteries contain numerous materials that are hazardous when deposited in landfills. Homerooms are competed for a breakfast party sponsored by the ECOS club. Students are bringing in AA, AAA, C, D, 9v, and button type batteries that will be properly recycled.

Congratulations to Mrs. Galey's homeroom, with only 9 students, for winning this year by bringing in an astounding 487 batteries! In a very close second place was Mrs. Danaher's homeroom, which contributed 464 batteries to the effort. Third place honors go to Mrs. Cornell's homeroom with 326 batteries collected. The total number of batteries collected was 2810. Pictured below are the batteries that were collected during last year's effort.

District residents are encouraged to visit OCRRA's website (www.ocrra.org) for more information on recycling. Club advisors Marcia Ferguson, Douglas Heath and Tracy Willey continue to encourage all of our students and faculty members to Reduce, Reuse, and Recycle.

French National Honor Society Induction Ceremony

Congratulations to the members of the French National Honor Society for the 2008-2009 school year. Our annual Induction Ceremony was held in the Westhill High School library on October 27th, with over 30 parents in attendance and 28 new inductees. Each current member proudly presented a new member, in French, as parents read the translation in English shown on PowerPoint slides. Principal Lee Roscoe presented cords to the senior members. They will wear these at graduation in June. The ceremony ended with a dessert buffet provided by the families of the senior members. The French National Honor Society is recognized nationwide and is sponsored by the American Association of Teachers of French. In order to become a member, students must maintain an 88% average for 2 years in French and at least an 80% average overall. Membership continues through high school as long as the qualifications are met and the students are actively studying French.

Newly inducted juniors were: Joseph Alcaro, Mary Bailey, Kimberly Bogardus, Caroline Buonocore, James Butler, Maureen Carey, Kathryn Christensen, Meredith D'Angelo, Bethany Dickinson, Heather Fennell, Elizabeth Forrest, Samuel Garofano, Sean Gilroy, Molly Gosson, Emily Haggerty, Molly Hubert, Melissa Irwin, Jeffrey Law, Keegan Lounsbery, Maria Mangine, Kathleen McDermott, Ben Miesner, Jessica Mooney, Kayla Pedrotti, Andre Remillard, Kirsten Schoenborn, Dylan Tripodi, and Aubrey Zych.

Crêpe Sale to Benefit a School in Sudan

Once again, French Club and French National Honor Society teamed up to sponsor the 4th Annual Crêpe Sale during IA on November 6th at Westhill High School. Over 30 members of the two clubs brought in supplies and then prepared and sold about 150 crêpes to students and staff to help support our friend Gabriel Bol Deng's fund to build a new school in his village in Sudan. Gabriel is one of the "Lost Boys from Sudan" who came to our school last year as a guest speaker. His fund for the Ariang Education Project has become a bit of a cause célèbre at our school. Since Westhill students have come to enjoy this culinary tradition, we were delighted to be able to donate $165 to the Ariang Project. Un grand merci to all those that supported the activity.

Teen Institute 2008

Packed into a bus with students from Marcellus and Skaneateles, a small group from Westhill headed off for Teen Institute with many other groups from area schools. Unsure of what to expect, unacquainted with the other students, and wary about giving up all electronic devices (including cell phones) for an entire weekend, the kids all say it was amazing, unforgettable, and extremely worthwhile.

The weekend began around 3 PM on Thursday, November 13th, and ran until midday on Sunday. During that time, days were jam-packed with ice breaker and group sharing activities, in addition to various workshops on effective leadership, school violence, drug and alcohol prevention, and dealing with stress. Students planned and performed light-hearted, hysterically funny skits (each with a message). Action-planning sessions were also built-in so that groups could discuss how to share the message and enthusiasm within their home schools.

Long days filled with activities, group discussions, and shared meals in a picturesque camp setting on Seneca Lake brought strangers together and ended with new friendships being formed and lasting memories created. The quiet bus ride from Marcellus on Thursday was nothing like the rowdy ride home on Sunday with new friends sharing a common experience that was awesome! Attending from Westhill were Morgan Roach and Meghan DeMatties, along with chaperone Mrs. Jesmain.

Science Comes Alive

On October 18th, twenty-three Earth Science students went on a field trip led by Mrs. Ferguson and Mrs. Pounder. Sites visited included the "disappearing lake" in Marcellus, the Tully Valley mudslide, Kettle Lakes, and the Outwash Plain in Tully. Students also collected samples from glacial deposits to be studied later in class.

They also visited one of the best fossil collecting sites in Central New York. They found trilobites, brachiopods, and crinoids. Their last stop included Labrador Pond and Tinkers Falls. All had a great time!

Seventh Graders Bring Book to Life with 8th Annual Outsiders Day

Students in Ms. Zabel's English 7 class transformed their room into "East Side" and "West Side" turf, complete with a sunset and burning church from the book, as they celebrated Outsiders Day as the culminating activity of their study of The Outsiders, S.E. Hinton's acclaimed novel. This was the eighth annual Outsiders Day at OHMS. One hundred students participated in the event.

Students raided their parents' closets for 60's apparel and came dressed as their favorite characters from the book. Some donned leather jackets and slicked back their hair to portray members of the Greasers' gang. Others sported madras shirts, or sweaters and matching knee socks, to portray Socials. They role played important scenes from the novel, listened to Elvis Presley and The Beatles (favorite singers of the Greasers and Socials), played Trivia with questions based on the novel, and enjoyed foods of the books' characters, such as banana splits and chocolate cake.

Thank you to all the parents who contributed chocolate cakes, chocolate milk, banana splits, barbecue rib sandwiches, and supplies for the event. Also, thank you to the parents who volunteered to chaperone: Mrs. Kelly, Mr. Root, Mrs. Grabda, Mrs. Sadowski, and Mr. Farrell. You helped make our book come to life and our 8th annual Outsiders Day a big success.

Eric Kelly (in madras shirt as Bob, a Social) and Tommy Kinsella (as Ponyboy Curtis, a Greaser) role play the encounter in the park as Billy Billy (as Johnny Cade) looks on.

Fifth Grade Art

The 5th grade artists in Mrs. Feyerabend's class have been very busy creating dynamic painted and textured collages, with the help of Pablo Picasso and Kurt Schwitters (collage artists from the early 20th century). Buzz words we've become familiar with are primary and secondary colors, color mixing, textures, embellishments and collage. These amazing artworks are hanging in the halls of OHMS. Moms and dads, you may want to pick up a frame for this one!

Sixth Grade Art

Mrs. Feyerabend's 6th grade art students have been making junk -- sculptures!!! From coffee cans to water bottles and empty thread spools, these clever artists have created flying squirrels, flipping robots, Christmas trees, beautiful jellyfish, and an assortment of other creatures. The students had to develop imaginative solutions to attach appendages and have at least 2 movable parts. They had to tap into not only their artistic skills, but also their engineering skills for this one! Before you throw your junk out, think about building a sculpture!

Annelise Eicholzer's adorable pig is constructed with a pudding cup, a juice bottle, coffee creamer lids, buttons, and wire.

Young Voters

Young voters in Mrs. Persons' 3rd grade class know what Americans want! Students paid close attention to information in the news about the two presidential candidates. On Election Day, each student had the opportunity to vote for the candidate he/she felt would be best to lead our country. Each student cast their vote on a mini voting machine in the classroom "voting booth." Once the votes were tallied, it was announced that Senator Barack Obama won the classroom election with an overwhelming majority of votes. Isn't it interesting that 3rd grade voters think like the adult voters!

Historian and Musician Presents Workshops at Cherry Road School

Artist-in-residence, Christopher Shaw, joined Cherry Road School students for a series of workshops highlighting Adirondack folklore and history on November 20th and 21st. The visit by the nationally recognized folk-singer and historical re-enactor included two days of storytelling, singing, and historical presentations in the Westhill Central School District.

"Students learned about American stories and songs, Native American traditions, and the history of the French and Indian War," explained Cherry Road music teacher, Mr. Gregory McCrea. "This is our fourth visit by Mr. Shaw. We've really developed a unique experience for kids like no other in the county."

Artist-in-residence, Christopher Shaw, with Mr. Engle's and Miss Sullivan's fourth grade students.

Miss Sullivan's fourth grade students watch as Christopher Shaw lights a fire with flint and steel.

Shaw is considered one of New York's foremost Adirondack storytellers and historians. A member of the esteemed Adirondack Liars Club, he carries forward the oral tradition, passing on stories and songs that have been part of our cultural landscape since America's colonial times.

Mr. Shaw spent a day in colonial costume demonstrating the tools and techniques of the 1700's. He explained the French and Indian War using deerskin maps, flint and steel to start a fire, tomahawks, and a period musket from 1763.

Mr. Shaw's visit was made possible through a generous donation by the WEST organization (Westhill Elementary Schools Together) and a grant by the NYS French and Indian War 250th Anniversary Commemoration Commission.

Starry Night

Somersaulting clouds and spiraling stars mesmerize our eyes as we gaze into the sky of Vincent Van Gogh's painting, The Starry Night. The natural world of trees, sky, and mountains seem to overawe the manmade things of the human world in this work of art. The energy and passion of Van Gogh's brushwork shows great emotion and drama. Third grade art students worked in oil pastels to recreate the rhythmic, repeating lines that give this work a strong sense of motion. Excellent job, third graders!

Royal Portraits

Fourth grade art students examined and discussed the painting, Edward VI As A Child, by Hans Holbein. Hans Holbein the Younger (1497-1543) became court painter to King Henry VIII of England. "Holbein was known chiefly as a painter of portraits. His services were much in demand. The more than 100 miniature and full-size portraits he completed at Henry's court provide a remarkable document of that colorful period. An old account of his services at court relates that he painted the portrait of the king, life size, so well that everyone who looks is astonished, since it seems to live as if it moved its head and limbs. In spite of their richness of detail, Holbein's portraits provide remarkably little insight into the personality and character of the people he painted." Students recreated a royal portrait of their own with black ink and tempera paints. They referred to royal face cards in a deck of playing cards for inspiration. A simple line drawing in black ink was sketched on the page, then vibrant tempera paint was used to embellish the work with lively color. Unsmiling, austere faces greet us in these royal works of art.

"FIRE! Get Out of the House!"

Mrs. Persons' class with Firefighter Gus.

Those words rang loud and clear for the children of Cherry Road and Walberta Park Schools. October was Fire Safety Month and once again Firefighter Gus from the Solvay Volunteer Fire Department visited. Firefighter Gus taught the children important information about what to do if there is ever a fire in your home. The children were able to see what it would look like during a fire, learned what to do, and how to get out of the house. They were also reminded how important it is to have smoke detectors in their homes and to check the batteries frequently! Thanks to the Solvay Fire Department and Firefighter Gus, the students of Cherry Road and Walberta Park know what to do to be safe if there is ever a fire!

Thanksgiving Feast

The kindergarten classes gathered together in the cafeteria to give thanks and celebrate Thanksgiving. They wore the Native American and pilgrim hats that they made, and enjoyed feasting on corn muffins, popcorn, and apple juice.

To prepare for the feast, the kindergarten classes changed classrooms and made corn muffins with Ms. Klee, popped popcorn with Mrs. Frank, and decorated a special turkey with Mrs. Byrne.

What a nice way for the kindergarteners to end their theme on families by celebrating with their school family!

Thank You Brigadiers!

The Syracuse Alumni Brigadiers donated $500 to the Walberta Park School music classroom. Song books were purchased to support the kindergarten, first, and second grade music curriculum. Enjoying the books are Dominic Demperio, Kaia Morgan, and Taylor Hartman. Thank you, Syracuse Alumni Brigadiers!

News from WPS Art Room

Kindergarten art students are beginning a unit on color. Color mixing will be explored. Students will learn about the primary colors red (magenta), yellow and blue (cyan). Mixing two of these colors together makes it possible to mix all the other colors of the spectrum. Like magic, students will create purple, orange and green!

Caroline Miller, Grade 2

First grade art students applied the concept of symmetry in a work of art! Working on the unusual material of clear acetate, students created a symmetrical design using geometric shapes. The end result looks like stained glass!

Madelyn Wheelden, Grade 1

Second grade art students explore the imaginative jungle scenes found in the work of French artist Henri Rousseau. The concept of overlapping was mastered in their drawings and the importance of craftsmanship was highly encouraged!

A Special Flag

Walberta Park School received a special honor this year coinciding with Veteran's Day. First grade student, Benjamin Leonardo's dad (Colonel Michael Leonardo) is serving in Afghanistan. He sent the school a flag flown over the American compound, Camp Phoenix, in Afghanistan on September 11th of this year. A letter and special certificate accompanied the flag from the Colonel and his Task Force. Pictured here is Benjamin presenting the flag to Mrs. Maureen Mulderig, the school's principal.

Parent Portal: A New On-Line Communication Tool to Improve Student Success

The Westhill Central School District recently launched a new service, "Parent Portal," an easy-to-use web-based communication tool that enables students, parents, teachers, and administrators to work together to improve student success. Parent Portal allows parents and students to view, from home, student grades, attendance, schedules, and teacher comments to stay up-to-date with students' academic progress.

The use of Parent Portal enhances communication between school and home and between parents and students. Parent Portal is available 24-hours a day making it extremely convenient for parents and students.

Parent Portal can be accessed by any computer connected to the Internet. Access to student data is protected by unique usernames and passwords. Parents must acquire their child's username and password by visiting their child's school.

Parent Portal is an exciting new service provided by the Westhill Central School District. The District looks forward to the increased communication this new tool will allow.

SchoolMessenger: A New Mass Communication Service

During the month of November, the Westhill Central School District introduced SchoolMessenger, a mass communication service, that enables school administration to record, schedule, send, and track personalized voice messages to students, parents, and staff in minutes. SchoolMessenger will be used to send general outreach messages, emergency broadcasts, and to inform parents of upcoming events.

After using the SchoolMessenger system for the first time at the Onondaga Hill Middle School, Principal Doug Huston stated, "The system provides great reporting," on the accuracy of our contact information. Westhill High School Vice Principal Mark Bednarski said he found SchoolMessenger to be very "easy to use" during his first time using the system. Messages can be sent to home phones, work phones, and cell phones.

SchoolMessenger will complement current modes of communication. Acquisition of SchoolMessenger is intended to reinforce the district's commitment to enhance communication between the school and home.
